Marketing Operations Leader · Lifecycle, Scoring, Routing, Attribution

SUMMARY

Marketing operations leader with 12 years in B2B SaaS and healthcare. I own the systems between marketing and revenue: Salesforce and HubSpot architecture, lifecycle definitions, lead scoring and routing, SLAs and the sales handoff, attribution, and funnel reporting. I align marketing, sales, and RevOps on one set of definitions, build reporting for leadership, and use AI agents with human review to automate the repetitive work.

SELECTED WORK

- Rebuilt lead capture, scoring, and routing across HubSpot and Salesforce. After launch, sales booked 50+ meetings a quarter (Q2 and Q3 2025), and closed deals rose 214% from Q2 to Q3.
- Built a Fit + Engagement lead scoring model with the sales team and a custom Salesforce lead conversion process, both launched June 2025.
- Grew website visits 31% quarter over quarter in Q3 2025.
- Ran feature launch communications. Customer operations satisfaction rose 11%.

EXPERIENCE

HealthSnap · Marketing Operations & Digital Manager — Dec 2024 to Jan 2026 · Remote

Health tech SaaS for remote patient monitoring

- Owned the HubSpot and Salesforce integration end to end, including field mapping, sync rules, and lifecycle stages from Marketing to Sales to Customer.
- Built a custom lead conversion process so sales saw every lead's score, stage, and marketing activity inside Salesforce.
- Designed a Fit + Engagement lead scoring model with sales, covering firmographic fit, role, and engagement signals, with points off for disengagement. The score syncs to Salesforce and drives the SQL handoff.
- Rebuilt the demo flow from an external Calendly link to an on-site HubSpot booking page, so every booking was tracked for attribution.
- Built a routing form with a persona identifier that sent demo requests straight to sales.
- Set and enforced UTM conventions so every campaign tracked cleanly into HubSpot and Salesforce.
- Ran ZoomInfo for contact enrichment, prospect lists, and intent data, synced to HubSpot and Salesforce, with an always-on workflow that imported contacts into campaigns once they met set criteria.
- Built reporting from scratch: sales and marketing dashboards, revenue by source, a lead-to-opportunity funnel with closed-lost reasons, events and tradeshows, and Blogs-to-Meetings attribution.
- Ran the performance cadence: biweekly KPI updates for leadership and a monthly leads report covering stage, owner, and outcome for marketing and sales.
- Ran a three-persona ABM campaign (CFO, Head of Revenue Cycle, Head of Population Health) with dedicated landing pages, LinkedIn ads, and email sequences. Wrote the post-mortem and reallocated budget based on results.
- Owned stack stewardship: reviewed marketing tool contracts and renewals, vetted lower-cost options, and kept data hygiene standards and process documentation current.
- Grew blog subscribers 43% (90 to 129) and cut page load lag 50% through site performance work.

VendGogh · Partner, Marketing Lead — Apr 2022 to Oct 2026 · Remote, part-time

B2B SaaS for vending operators

- First marketer. Architected the full marketing stack and data flow from zero: CRM, analytics, automation, and lead capture.
- Built lead capture that sends every demo request to HubSpot and a sales Slack channel at the same time, with first-touch and latest-touch attribution on every form.
- Set up GA4, Google Tag Manager, and LinkedIn tracking, with key events for demo requests.
- Launched a pricing calculator that pre-fills the demo form with the prospect's quote and sends the quote and lead source to HubSpot.
- Built an AI publishing pipeline: Claude drafts a blog post every three weeks, the team reviews it in Slack, and approved posts publish to the site and to LinkedIn, Facebook, and Instagram. Nothing publishes without human approval.
- Took the website through three versions, ending with a site built in code, with redirects that preserved search rankings.
- Kept the privacy policy aligned with how lead data is stored in HubSpot.
